1 Empowering Developers to Earn Gas Fees on Our Blockchain

In the blockchain industry, many developers deploy their smart contracts on various blockchains without receiving any compensation in the form of gas fees. These developers are essentially utilizing the blockchain as a free platform to build their commercial applications. However, our unique approach offers developers more than just a free platform for development. We provide them with a grant and an enticing 20% reward from each transaction fee generated through their smart contracts on our blockchain. This innovative concept not only helps developers sustain their businesses but also enables them to start earning revenue through gas fees on our blockchain.

LATEST is the native utility token that fuels the Latest blockchain network and is designed to provide multiple use cases to its holders.

- Network Fees: LATEST can be used to pay for the transaction fees on the Latest blockchain network.
- Validator Staking: LATEST holders can delegate their tokens to validators who manage transaction processing and execution on the Latest blockchain platform.
- Native Liquidity: LATEST provides liquidity to various on-chain applications deployed on the Latest blockchain.
- Governance: LATEST token grants token holders the right to participate in governance and decision-making processes on the Latest platform.
- Advertisement Fees: Use LATEST for Affiliate Advertising on Latest Blockchain Explorer.

1 DPOS LATESTCHAIN: Wave of Decentralized Applications

1-the-art Layer 1 blockchain platform, built to make decentralized application development easier. We prioritize the accessibility of technical, traffic, and ecological resources and open up comprehensive empowerment in promotion, traffic, and resources.

LatestChain is an EVM compatible blockchain, providing a solution to the biggest problem in the blockchain industry: the lack of a comprehensive range of decentralized application development facilities and services, we're set to revolutionize the industry by enabling global development capabilities.

The success of Dapps hinges on their adoption rate. As such, we offer a comprehensive range of services that your Dapps reach a wider audience. Through partnerships and marketing initiatives, we facilitate their integration with other popular blockchain products.

We can leverage a wide range of efficient and cost-effective resources. Our community of experts are there to help you deploy secure, reliable, and scalable Dapps without breaking the bank.

Dominating the Blockchain Industry: Unleashing 2000 TPS for Building the Biggest Empire

In the fiercely competitive blockchain industry, transaction speed plays a pivotal role in determining success. Our blockchain, boasting a record-breaking 2000 TPS (Transactions Per Second), gives us a powerful advantage to establish ourselves as the undisputed leader.

Our blockchain's average transaction ranges of 100-250 (ETH).
